

I am a flight attendant and disagree with allowing passengers to utilize mobile phones while in the air. An alternative to this would be allocating specific space on the airplane that could be used as a phone booth; or allowing passengers to text message only.